SKY TRAFFIC NOISE BREAKS INTO WILL'S MORNING SLUMBER

(Special to The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 27.—This traffic problem is getting to be terrible. W a s woke up this morning at 1:30 by a lot of folks singing over my r a n c h house that had just left Tokyo. Japan, a couple of days ago. We got the Zep tied up to a bar wire fence out here on the prairie. They are all raving about how popular Sir P h i l i p Snowden, the Englishman, has made himself by demanding that they get more of the German payment money. He told 'em "Boys, we not only would like to have it, but we are going to get it." Then so-called statesmen will tell you that a navy don't pay.

Yours,
WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The E. and A. division band of the Pennsylvania railroad, New Castle's own, got loud applause at various points along the line of march in Cleveland's huge floral parade and pageant Saturday. It had an honor position since it headed the transportation division. One float in the exhibition alone cost $8,000.

Time has come when picnics are again somewhat inappropriate, or at least not suitable to the weather at night. Corn and weiner roasts and marshmallow toasts have succeeded them to the forefront. But there's always something.

Busses, taxi-cabs and private automobiles, thrown into service to care for the first days rush to the New Castle fair grounds, were lined along East Washington street at frequent points this morning. All seemed to have been doing their share of the business, too.

When the Pennsylvania railroad completes its west side improvement program, it will merit the attention of the city. It does already, but there's still additional work remaining. A new station platform with light posts will hereafter greet the visitor coming via that road, slag has been placed over the tracks all around the driveway has been paved and a beautiful flower plot is to be worked out in the center of the drive. All Pennsy buildings will be painted.

Local rural school pupils should be glad they do not live in Mercer county, where a number of the country schools started their sessions yesterday, September 2nd and 3rd will be plenty early enough for most of them.

This last week of vacation for local school kiddies will be a round of pleasure for most of them. Today is kiddies day at Cascade Park, while tomorrow comes the great New Castle Fair.

MINES FIELD, LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—Undaunted by two narrow escapes from disaster, the Graf Zeppelin was flying swiftly and serenely over Arizona and approaching New Mexico at 9:25 a. m. Eastern Daylight time today.

It took off at 12:16 o'clock this morning (4:16 a. m., E. D. T.), to complete the fourth and final leg of its round-the-world flight from Lakehurst, New Jersey.

After a careful survey of weather maps, Commander Hugo Eckener decided to take a somewhat northern route, it was learned, flying over Oklahoma, Kansas City, Mo., possibly Chicago, then to New York and Lakehurst.

He expected to land at Lakehurst Wednesday evening.

In order to make the big celebration planned for the nineteen Lawrence County Boy Scouts, who will return the latter part of the week from the World Jamboree in England, the committee in charge has found it necessary to raise a fund to finance the event.

Accordingly, members of the American Legion Boy Scouts Activities committee, at a meeting last evening in the Legion home, decided to ask the business and professional men of the city to aid them in putting the celebration across and make the home coming welcome one of worthwhile proportions.

HIGH TENSION WIRES ALMOST SPELL DOOM OF GRAF ZEPPELIN

(International News Service)

ON BOARD GRAF ZEPPELIN, (via radio to L. N. S.) Aug. 27.—The midnight (Pacific time) take-off of the Graf Zeppelin on the fourth and final stage of its round-the-world flight was the narrowest squeak this new Leviathan of the skies has had in its entire world flight.

The big ship missed a network of high tension electric wires on the edge of the field by what appeared to be not more than inches, although the actual margin was about ten feet. To the passengers in the main cabin of the ship the experience was more hair raising than their experience in passing through a terrific electric storm off the coast of Japan, last Saturday.

The near destruction of the airship was apparently caused by a so-called "inversion," that is, immediately above the cool strata of ground-air, there is a much warmer strata of air. When the Zeppelin reached this warm strata, it refused to rise any higher.

Some of the Graf's passengers, most of whom were leaning out of the windows of the main cabin, watching the scenes on Mines Field as the Graf took off, were almost frozen with horror as the big ship trundled steadily and seemingly irresistibly toward the network of high tension (Continued On Page Eight)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—The 1929 National Air races at the Municipal airport here are only two days old, but they already have an achievement to their credit that is of inestimable value.

This achievement, let it be stated, is the focusing of the eyes of the layman on the fact that warfare in which airplanes are participants is horror of the most indescribable manner.

Nothing more terrible or terrifying can be imagined than the sight of squadrons of fighting airplanes zooming down on a field in a power dive. And there have been many such (Continued On Page Five)

Delegates Gather At Sunbury For

Convention

(International News Service)
SUNBURY, Pa., Aug. 27.—With a large attendance presaging the biggest gathering of "Hello Bills" in the lodge's history, the twenty-third annual convention of the Pennsylvania B. P. O. E. association was fairly launched today.

Mayor Drumheller presented the delegates with an address of welcome. The mayor, however, did not present the convention with the keys to the city for, said he, the keys "have been thrown into the Susquehanna river for the week—the city of Sunbury is all yours."

The formal opening last night was marked by the addresses of James J. Davis, secretary of labor in President Hoover's cabinet and supreme dictator of the Loyal Order of Moose; Walter P. Andrews, Atlanta, Ga., grand exalted ruler; and Charles H. Grakel, Philadelphia, past grand exalted ruler.

Secretary Davis was keen in his praises of the spirit shown by the Elks, especially praising the efforts of Pennsylvania Elks to aid crippled children.

One casualty marred an otherwise perfect convention opening. Charles E. Staving, exalted ruler of Allegheny lodge, was dragged along the ground for several hundred yards when he tried to board his delegation's train as it pulled out of Wilkes-Barre after a brief stop. Staving was placed under the care of a physician at his hotel.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—President Hoover's proposal to give back to the various states dominion over nearly 200,000,000 acres of public lands, now administered by the federal government, startled the conservationists in Congress today and bid fair to revive that dormant issue into the proportions of real controversy.

The federal government, Mr. Hoover said in a letter read to a conference of western state governors, is practically incapable of administering such a domain, and he intimated that when Congress reconvenes in regular session in December he may propose a program which will restore these lands to state control. The federal government would, of course, retain mineral and oil rights in the lands.

Letter Is Studied

Mr. Hoover's letter was being warily studied today by those who have always kept a jealous eye on the vast public domain—the conservationists who have consistently fought for a rigid federal grip on public lands since the days of the Ballinger-Pinchot row. It was being studied no less intently by those who, for one reason or another, have always favored relaxation of this federal grip.

Before there is any definite action, however, from the White House the President proposes to appoint a commission of nine or 10 to study the whole question. Half of the commission would be representatives of (Continued On Page Two)

Members of city council and City Engineer P. F. Miller met in conference Monday in the office of the mayor for the consideration of the proposition of whether or not the city could go along with the state in the repaving of Croton avenue and Grant street this fall.

W. T. Burns, commissioner of finance for the city, explained that the city did not at present have any available funds with which to do the city's share of the work, such as storm sewers, etc.

It was the decision of those in conference that the city could not do anything in the matter this fall, unless the city solicitor could find some legal means of providing for the improvement and as this seems doubtful, there is little likelihood that this much needed improvement can be undertaken this year.

Many Thrills Are To Be Of-

This Week

Bigger than ever and much better if early indications are to be taken, the New Castle Fair got away to its opening this afternoon with a fair sized crowd present. Being the first day all of the exhibits were not in place at two o'clock, neither was all of the mid-way completed, but by early evening it was expected that the fair would be running in high gear, with every department functioning as smoothly as a well oiled watch.

In many respects every fair is the same, and yet this year's New Castle Fair is different in many ways. Better placing of the exhibition booths is seen. The museum has more attractions, the exhibits seem larger and best of all the weather seems to promise to be good for the week, and this in itself is a feature for the New Castle Fair.

But eyes and hair and cheeks and lips, and maids most pressing fair, seem dull and drab, for poetry, somehow I do not care. Arrangements For Scout Trip Are Completed

Boys Will Be Royally Entertained By Legion Post At Ball Game Friday

CHARTER SPECIAL CARS ON HARMONY

Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion, which is sponsoring the trip of the Lawrence county Boy Scouts to Pittsburgh, Friday, when they will be guests of the Pittsburgh baseball club at the ball game between the Pirates and the Cubs, completed all arrangements for the event at a meeting in the Legion Home last evening.

Plans have been made to take care of 150 Boy Scouts from New Castle and the surrounding district, who will be in personal charge of P. L. Ober, assistant scout executive. The group will include 25 scouts, a scout master, and two assistants from Ellwood City; 24 scouts, a scout master, and two assistants from Bessemer; 20 scouts, a scout master, and two assistants from New Bedford; while the balance will be made up of boys from the various troops in New Castle. They will be well chaperoned by Mr. Ober and the scout masters who will accompany them.

Two special cars have been chartered on the Harmony Line, which will convey the boys to and from this city. The scouts will meet at the Harmony Station promptly at 8:30, leaving New Castle at 9 o'clock. Boys from the Ellwood City troops will board the car in Ellwood City. No boy will be permitted to board the car unless he has his certificate of admission to the game, which have been furnished the scout masters through the courtesy of the Pittsburgh baseball club.

Boys must be twelve years of age, and should wear their uniform if they have one. They have also been asked to carry their troop flags and must all wear Boy Scout badges.

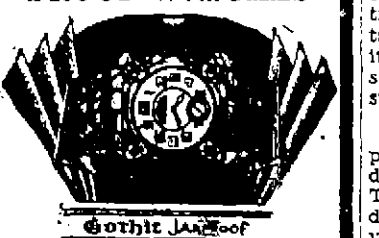

In view of the fact that the return to New Castle will not be made until early in the evening and they will not arrive here until around 8 o'clock, each has been asked to provide his own lunch and supper, or sufficient money to pay for the same.

Arrangements will be made to transport the boys from the Pittsburgh station of the Harmony Co. to Forbes Field over the lines of the Pittsburgh Railways Co.

Hay fever victims are probably not a bit enthused over the approaching season. There seems to be an abundance of golden rod in vacant lots and fields around the city and environs this year.

New Castle high school is continuing its unusual record for sending large percentages of graduates to schools and colleges. A large percentage of the graduates of the class of 1929 will enroll in some college or institution this fall.

Nursing as a profession apparently has an added appeal to young women of New Castle as a result of the erection of the magnificent Jameson Memorial hospital and the nurses home. Seven of the graduates of last spring's class in New Castle high are enrolling as student nurses in the institution.

Action of council in exonerating the property owners along Moravia street for the cost of widening the street, while it may at the present time appear to be justifiable is establishing a precedent that will make it difficult for council to proceed in similar cases in the future. Logic in such procedure is perplexing.

Barn Destroyed; Loss Is $4,000

Contents Consumed When Structure Burns In Mahoning Township

Fire of undetermined origin totally destroyed the barn and contents of W. L. Rodgers, located on the Covert Station road, Mahoning township, on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Rodgers this morning placed the estimate loss at approximately $4,000, part of which is covered by insurance.

The Rodgers family was not at home when the barn, with its store of hay and grain, wagon, harness and other farm machinery took fire. An Edensburg resident passing by noticed the smoke and spread the alarm but it was unavailing, since the flames had made considerable headway. In addition to the grain, wagon, harness that was consumed, a calf was also burned.

Final details of the big welcome are now being completed. In the meantime, when members of the committee approach the citizens Wednesday for a small contribution, it is hoped that they will be accorded a favorable reception.

The committee which will solicit the funds is composed of H. E. Welch, H. B. Rosenthal, William Gabbert, Ivo Richards, Tom Elliott, Olen Burr, Gomer Emery, William Curry, Frank Summers, Phil Greer and Robert Armstrong.

From the last report received from the Scouts who are now nearing the United States again, their return has been somewhat delayed because of fog banks along the coast and they are not expected to arrive in New York until Thursday, arriving in New Castle on Saturday.

As soon as they have docked in New York city, arrangements have been made whereby Mayor W. H. Gillespie will communicate with Scout Executive J. NATIONAL AIR MEET AT CLEVELAND SHOWS AVIATION PROGRESS sights here since the big sky circus officially got under way Sunday.

Thrills Galore The various units of the army, navy and marine corps, which have been assigned to go through their paces for the entertainment and education of spectators at the races have provided the outstanding numbers on a program of thrills that is diversified in the extreme.

So well have these service flyers done their work that they have completely overshadowed and dimmed the lustre of such glamorous events as the women's derby and parachute jumping contests.

The service flyers, led by the navy's crack "high hat" squadron have been giving exhibitions of formation flying and the manner in which enemy objects, both movable and stationary, are disposed of by airplanes that mean business. Today and thereafter for the duration of the race meet, they are scheduled to offer still more thrilling stunts.

Yesterday the "high hat" squadron dived down over the grandstand in an imaginary attack on an enemy force with such realism that innumerable women among the spectators uttered cries of fright and hardened aviation men were forced to exert themselves to the utmost to keep their nerves under control.

The race meet, by the way, is now reaching its highest point, which is to say, the major events are under way.

Girl Filers Finish The finish of the women's derby from Santa Monica, Cal., to Cleveland which was won by Mrs. Louise Thaden of Pittsburgh, and the finish of the All-Ohio derby, yesterday, were the first of these feature attractions.

Today, the schedule calls for the finish of the Miami-Miami Beach derby, the Portland, Ore., to Cleveland derby, the start of the rim-of-Ohio derby, and the possible appearance of the globe striding Graf Zeppelin over the airport.

May See Zep Commander Hugo Eckener of the zeppelin, which is expected to bring the races that he will try his best to bring his huge gas bag over the city as soon as possible.

A capacity crowd of 40,000 witnessed the events on yesterday's card and it is expected that an equally large number of people will be on hand today. The wave of aviation enthusiasm that has gripped Cleveland since the opening of the show still continues at a feverish pitch.

Today, the less thrilling, but nevertheless interesting event, is the awarding of some $4,000 to Mrs. Thaden for her feat in winning the women's derby.

Glady's O'Donnell of Long Beach, Cal., who finished second, and Amelia Earhart of New York, the third place winner, will be called in front of the grandstand and after the prize money is awarded will be asked to tell of their experiences in the races.

Will Win Derby It has not been determined definitely just how much Mrs. Thaden will receive for winning the women's derby. From the national air race organization the Pittsburgh flyer will receive officially $4,000. In addition to this she will receive prize money from other sources totaling nearly $10,000, it is believed. This includes $4,000 subscribed by the National Exchange club, a $1,000 prize of $1,000 given by Fort Worth, Texas, and $500 in lap prizes given by other cities.

Upon arrival Devereaux and Reis were pronounced dead.

Mr. Devereaux was still breathing slightly. Hospital physicians said there was very little hope for recovery.

Eleven planes had hopped off from the central airport at Camden shortly after nine o'clock this morning but only ten arrived here. It was understood that one of the planes had been forced down in the vicinity of Bordentown, N. J.

Others arrived in the following order: E. J. Wesley Smith, Howard Young, of New Castle, Del., flying a Bellanca; Ike Stewart, of Moline, Ill.; Robert Hewitt; Sydney A. Reilly; Henry A. Little, of Morrisstown, Pa.; and Lloyd Yost.

The fliers were to stop here for refueling, before taking off on the 150 mile hop to Albany, N. Y., the next control stop.

The residence of Harry L. Shaner on the Fred Keast farm, in Pulaski township, was badly damaged by a freak bolt of lightning during a heavy thunder storm, early Friday morning.

The lightning entered the front door, circled through the house, shattered the radio in pieces, and did considerable damage to the other furniture.

None of the occupants in the house were injured. Mr. Shaner, who was in the barn at the time, was hurled to the ground by the terrific jolt.

HOOVER PROPOSES STATES BE GIVEN CONTROL OF LANDS

the states in whose borders most of the public lands lay.

Time Has Come But, despite the commission, Mr. Hoover clearly indicated in his letter that he thought the time had come for the states themselves to administer the lands within their own borders, to retain sub-soil rights. His letter, however, made no mention of either timber or power rights in the public lands, and it was this omission that centered the attention of the conservationists. Some of these privately expressed the fear that timber and power privileges in the public lands would inevitably become involved in the vagaries of state politics and subjected to political as well as economic exploitation.

Further federal administration of the public domain, the President pointed out, tends to increase federal bureaucracy.

FORMER PASTOR AND WIFE HONORED

Dr. W. H. Crapper, former pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church of this city and his wife were guests of honor at the 100th anniversary of the home of Addison Anderson of Westfield on the Butler road on the evening of August 23.

A fire started during the afternoon had driven the guests out of the house at 10 o'clock when they and buns and other good things were served in abundance and enjoyed. After the dinner the evening was a season of old time singing in which J. C. Lewis as leader and Jerry Blucher letting himself out to the full extent, reminding many of an old time camp meeting. There was a fine address by Rev. Dr. Crapper who gave some interesting reminiscences of the Fourth Presbyterian church in which he mentioned how proud he was of the fact that there were so many former members of the church still in important positions in other churches, among these being Bill Jones, A. E. Perry, John Ulrich, Samuel Johnson and others. John Ulrich, Sam Johnson, Jerry Blucher and others expressed the thanks of those present for the hospitality extended by the host and the affair came to a close with the singing of "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds."

BRITISH WITHDRAWAL—ELEVEN YEARS

The British sent their soldiers into the Rhine region at the end of 1918. They will begin their withdrawal on September 1, 1929. Thus for nearly 11 years a great body of British troops has lived in—and on—a foreign country, theoretically policing it and providing the threat of force necessary to insure the fulfillment of the punitive clauses of the Versailles treaty.

Eleven years is a long time in this fast-moving world. That same 11 years has seen changes which could hardly be matched in any equivalent period of the world's history. It has seen the substitution of tyranny for democracy in more than half of Europe. It has seen the rise of new philosophies of government and of life. It has seen Britain herself reduced from her position of primacy to a shaky nervousness and her government taken from the hands of the ancient class which held it almost by divine right and turned over to the party of the wage workers. It has seen conquered and enslaved Germany emerge once more into the sunlight of economic power.

That 11 years has been an era, indeed. The young man of 25 today, just beginning to assume the responsibilities of the world, was a mere boy of 14 or 15 when the troops marched in. He can hardly know how or why they got there. Brought up in the hectic tempo of the jazz age, he can with difficulty visualize the calm world which was thrown into sudden uproar by the events of 1914. He cannot understand the long-concealed bitterness which broke out and overwhelmed the world in his childhood. The withdrawal of the British troops must be to him something as difficult to comprehend as the withdrawal of Caesar's legions in the fourth century.

SAVANNAH'S ADVISORY BOARD

One of the most interesting experiments in municipal government has just concluded its fourth year in Savannah where there is a women's advisory board named for the purpose of making suggestions to the mayor and aldermen for the improvement of the community at large.

It not infrequently happens that governing bodies are impressed with their own importance and do not welcome suggestions, however constructive and sincere they may be but the reports are that this advisory board of women has proven most successful in Savannah and has been an agency for much good.

The board has no legal standing. It is purely advisory but in this capacity it has been able to bring about a number of things that have worked for the good of the community. Its successful "Trade-in-Savannah" campaign was accepted wholeheartedly, resulting in material improvement of the retail business. It obtained city-wide co-operation on a clean-city campaign and it took up the matter of better markings for streets in new sections of the city.

This advisory board of women cleaned up and made attractive the public market and took an active hand in putting over a city and state issue for schools and good roads.

The women of Savannah have not let their interest lag as a result of their past successes but are forging ahead on new and greater programs. It shows what can be done in a community where there is close co-operation between the citizens and officials and where there is the determination that these things for the betterment of a city can be done. More power to this group of women in Savannah and may their kind increase in the other cities of our land.

POLICE DRIVE AGAINST ALL NIGHT PARKING

In view of the fact that New Castle some months since passed a city ordinance banning all night parking of autos on the streets, the following from the Philadelphia Inquirer, showing that the police of Philadelphia are making an effort to enforce the regulation in that city will be of interest:

"The police drive to force automobile owners to take their cars off the streets at night should be given full public support. It is the performance of a duty long neglected. The public highway is not a public garage. There is no individual right to the use of the streets for the storage of private property. Automobiles which habitually are parked outside of houses at night are to be classed as mechanical vagrants or waifs. Their owners, if they care about them, should find them a home."

"Quite naturally there has arisen the criticism that the police pressure against owners of these vagrant cars is inspired by garage proprietors with an eye to better business. We do not think the accusation is either valid or fair, but in any event it has nothing to do with the case. The city government is not interested in the place where an owner keeps his automobile so long as it is not left squatting on the public highway or so located that it is a menace to life or property."

"There was a time when Philadelphia streets were best with droves of hogs which rolled in the gutters and made life generally miserable for pedestrians, whose clothes were frequently ruined after an encounter with the beasts. The effort to get rid of this nuisance naturally offended the owners of the hogs; but public sentiment eventually banished the animals in the interest of the communal welfare. The same rule applies to any condition of this kind. It is basic to good city government that private abuse of the right of way on the highway shall not be permitted."

A RARE TRIBUTE

That the American press is giving more detailed and diversified news to the reading public than the press in any other country is a very safe and conservative conclusion to draw from the statement of Otto H. Kahn that he is "better posted on European affairs by reading the newspapers in America, than by going to Europe."

As a banker Mr. Kahn goes to Europe each year "for business and general observation, economic, international and otherwise." He has just returned from such a trip and has paid a high tribute to the American press in the following statement: "I am glad to be back and have American newspapers again. I find that, when I leave America for Europe, I am better posted on what is happening in Europe, than I am after I get there and have to depend upon the European press. The diversity, accuracy and multiplicity of the European items in the American papers, when you compare them with the European papers, is amazing. It is a real fact that I am better posted on European affairs by reading the newspapers in America, than by going to Europe."

It would be difficult to find anywhere a statement more complimentary to the manner in which the press is serving the public than in these words of Mr. Kahn. No finer tribute could be paid.

A star of the first magnitude is one that is visible under a divorce story headline.

The question apparently might be

American Jews in Palestine urgent-

Trouble between Arabs and Jews

started when Arabs received permis-

the remnant of the Temple of Jeru-

The building is alleged to interfere

The things that really are not an issue and that should not be in a political campaign are the very things that are in one and never do any good to any cause.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A couple of actors had what is called in the vernacular of their profession a "dumb act." They owned a flock of educated ducks. It was a good act but bookings were very few. Finally there came a period of dullness, when the artists could not secure an engagement at all.

They were laid off for the Summer and took refuge in a little house loaned them by a sympathetic friend and did their own housekeeping such as it was. When the Fall season opened up, their agent wired them:

"Swanson Brothers,

"Trained Duck Act

"Summit, N. J.

"Have booked you for full week, Far Rockaway, opening next Monday."

But this was the melancholy answer, which came back collect:

"Impossible to accept your offer. Have eaten the act."

There are few specialists who are willing to let well enough alone.

There are times when it is no trouble at all for us to tell some candidates for office right at the beginning of a campaign that they are not for 'em, and that is all there is to it as far as we are concerned.

There may be a split in the Democratic party among the few in the party before a primary election, but after that, with the aid of some alleged Republicans, they get together strong. The Dems are in hopes right now of something falling on their willing shoulders in the way of an office.

Six Power Group Will Attempt To Break Deadlock

Six Power Group To Meet At The Hague In Effort To Effect Agreement

THE HAGUE, Aug. 27.—A meeting of the six power group in the Hague reparations conference—England, France, Japan, Italy, Belgium and Germany—was summoned for 5 o'clock this afternoon in an effort to break the conference deadlock, which had been tightened by the British refusal to accept the other allies' "final proposals."

Earlier in the day the British, French and Italian delegates had handed a letter to Henri Jaspard, of the Belgian delegation, suggesting a speedy meeting of the six power group. French and Italian delegates suggested that such a meeting might enable the allied representatives to break the existing deadlock.

Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, whose persistent demands have not yet been met to his satisfaction, said the meeting would give the delegates "an opportunity to state their cases to the world."

The financial question dealing with the distribution of German reparations annuities and allied problems, was completely tied up throughout the day. Although private conversations were continuing at the instigation of the British, at mid-afternoon there was no indication of a decisive move towards a settlement.

A meeting of the political committee was summoned for 8 p. m. to deal with the Rhineland issue. The Germans were to present their views at this meeting. It is understood that the German, French and British delegates have virtually reached a complete agreement regarding control of the Rhineland after the occupational troops are withdrawn.

GIANT DIRIGIBLE SPEEDING ON TO LAKEHURST, N. J.

(4:16 o'clock E. D. T.) for Lakehurst, New Jersey, on the fourth lap of its round-the-world flight.

As the plaudits of countless thousands of spectators rang out and sirens screamed, the great silver-sided dirigible scraped its rudder in the soft air of the field for a quarter of a mile. Then as it rose sharply, looking water balloons, it rose by two or three feet contact with high tension electric wires outside the grounds.

Lieutenant T. G. W. Settle, U. S. N., in charge of ground operations, sent a message to the Zeppelin to ascertain if Commander Dr. Hugo Eckener contemplated a return to the field.

Damage Slight
At 2:08 o'clock (6:08 a. m. E. D. T.) Lieut. Settle gave out to the press a message which he said KZ, a low-wave radio station in Los Angeles, had picked up for him. The message read:

"Thanks. Damage very slight. Will continue flight."
(Signed) "Denne."

"Denne" is the wireless call for the Zeppelin.

At 2:40 o'clock this morning (6:40 a. m. E. D. T.), the Zeppelin circled over San Diego. The naval radio station, on North Island in San Diego Bay, picked up a message from the Zeppelin saying, "All's well."

Airmen at Mines Field ventured the opinion that Commander Hugo Eckener, of the Zeppelin, had chosen to fly near the Naval Aircraft Landing Field until he had fully determined extent of the damage.

The Zeppelin headed directly southeast from San Diego toward Yuma, Arizona.

At 3:13 o'clock (7:13 a. m. E. D. T.) the dirigible was clearly sighted over Jacumba Hot Springs, Calif. This was 55 miles west of El Centro, Calif., and about the same distance east of San Diego.

The Zeppelin was proceeding in an easterly direction. This would take it over Mexico to the west of the border town of Mexicali and bring it back over American soil at Luna, Arizona.

At High Rate of Speed
Residents of Jacumba Hot Springs said the ship was traveling at a high rate of speed, and apparently with all motors functioning.

It will not be definitely decided until the Zeppelin reaches El Paso, Texas, whether Dr. Eckener will follow a course eastward over St. Louis, Mo., or farther south, past Atlanta, Ga.

Weather conditions will govern Dr. Eckener's decision.

It was persistently reported before the air liner departed that this would be Dr. Eckener's "swan song" as an aerial captain, that he would devote his future life to executive duties with the Zeppelin company at Friedrichshafen, Germany.

It was said too that Lieutenant Jack C. Richardson, U. S. N., of Los Angeles, Cal., navigating officer of the American Dirigible Los Angeles would navigate the Zeppelin after it got under way. Lieutenant Richardson smiled when asked to confirm this report, but would not deny it.

Crowds surpassing all expectations surrounded the mile-square field for the take-off. It was estimated that fully half a million persons were on hand in and out of the field where the Zeppelin came to earth at 5:18 o'clock Monday morning (9:18 Eastern Daylight Time). But as night fell and the sun set, the thousands of people were taxed to keep the constantly increasing thousands from roadway leading to Mines Field.

750,000 In Crowd
(By ten forty five o'clock, Los Angeles time police captains said there were fully 750,000 persons on foot crowded the four sides of the mile-square field.

One half of the "official" road, Pine avenue, kept open for Dr. Eckener, his party, passengers and newspapermen, was so thickly packed with humanity that it was only with the greatest effort, and at the risk of lives of foot traffic, that automobiles were enabled to reach enclosed space.

The field itself presented an almost eerie appearance. On its four sides lights on high poles outlined the grounds. Intensely white arc lights brought out the huge shape of the great silvered balloon rising almost stiffly at its mooring mast.

A solid "iron line" of marines was thrown early about the Zeppelin to keep back the host of authorized persons admitted to the field.

"Verboten" was the slogan, a few translations of which was conveyed to the pressing throng that "they shall not pass."

Refueling was completed under the direction of Lieutenant Commander T. G. W. Settle, U. S. N., at 7 o'clock (11 o'clock Eastern Daylight Time).

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 27.—The Graf Zeppelin passed over Yuma, Ariz., at 4:43 a. m. (8:43 eastern daylight time) according to reports received here.

Yuma is on the dividing line between Pacific and mountain time. Mountain time being one hour later.

SENTINEL, Ariz., Aug. 27.—The Graf Zeppelin passed over this town at 7:18 a. m. today, mountain time (10:18 a. m. E. D. T.), it was flying rapidly eastward at a low altitude.

GILA BEND, Ariz., Aug. 27.—The Graf Zeppelin, flying at an altitude of one thousand feet, soared past this town at 8 a. m. mountain time today, (11 a. m. E. D. T.) the monster air liner was traveling at a rapid pace through clear skies.

MARICOPA, Ariz., Aug. 27.—Flying at a high altitude, the Graf Zeppelin passed over here today at 8:54 a. m. mountain time (11:54 a. m. E. D. T.). The weather was clear.

The Zeppelin up to this point was averaging less than sixty miles an hour since leaving Los Angeles.

CASA GRANDE, Ariz., Aug. 27.—The Graf Zeppelin flew over this town at 9:18 a. m. mountain time (12:18 p. m. E. D. T.) it was flying high through unclouded skies.

David Nesbit Writes Of Trip

Tells Of Tour In England With Boy Scout Dele- gation

Mr. and Mrs. David Nesbit of 427 Leasure avenue have received an interesting letter from their son, David,
who is one of the local group of Boy Scouts who attended the international jamboree at Birkenhead, England, and will arrive home the last of the week.

Some of the interesting things he has to tell in his letter follow: "Yesterday morning we got up in the dazzling rain at 5.30 o'clock, had our breakfast and marched to the street car, which is four miles away, rode to the railroad station and boarded a train for Bolton.

"Bolton is a small town of 75,000 people and has the best cotton mills in the world. The trains here are the same that you see in the movies, with a seat on each side and a door and no aisles. The engines are small, but go from 40 to 60 miles an hour all the time.

"When we got off the train at Bolton we were greeted by about 75,000 people and were taken by big busses to the cotton mills. Before we entered the mills we were divided into groups of four with a guide, then we were taken through the mill and shown all the different machinery.

There was so much noise that we couldn't hear our guide, and if we could have heard him we wouldn't have understood him, because the English talk so funny.

"After coming from the mill we were taken to a new school and shown around. Then we were served tea by the Y. W. C. A. At two o'clock
we were taken to a castle which covers 200 acres, including gardens, etc.
It took us all afternoon to go through it and an old mansion that was built in 1483. At six o'clock we were served dinner in a barn that is 801 years old.
The barn is built of English oak,
which is the most durable wood known. The mansion is constructed of granite. It has secret panels in the wall and secret rooms. After dinner we were taken to greet the mayor.
Then back to camp.

"We put on the American pageant
this afternoon (August 10th). There were 70,000 people in camp today besides the Scouts. This is the first day it hasn't rained."

May Build Garage At Treating Plant

Councilman Walter V. Tyler on Monday at the meeting of city council informed his colleagues that he believed that his department had sufficient materials on hand to construct at least a two-story garage at the sewer treating plant and asked that he have permission to have the same erected. Council directed him to investigate as to what it would cost and concerning materials on hand and money in his appropriation and then go ahead if conditions of his appropriation warranted it. He stated that he would inform council relative to the matter before taking any action.

BURNS WILL LOOK UP SEWER ASSESSMENT

Councilman Clayton H. Reeves on Monday at the meeting of council
asked that the request of Rosario Scalzo for exoneration of a sewer assessment on his property at 619 Union street be brought before council.
When this was done he stated that he and others had investigated and found that the sewer for which Scalzo was assessed was of no use to him. The assessment was $334.80. Councilman Burns drew attention to the fact that the city had no money to permit this.
City Solicitor White called attention to the fact that the assessment had been made about five years ago by a board of viewers and that there should be no exoneration after so long a period. The matter was referred to Councilman W. T. Burns to determine whether or not Scalzo had paid any assessment on any other street and report back.

George S. Kennedy Sheriff Candidate

Well Known Police Officer Seeks Republican Party Nomination

GEORGE S. KENNEDY

George S. Kennedy, well-known police officer of the city of New Castle, and a former county detective, today announced that he was seeking the Republican nomination for the office of sheriff. He resides at 413 Martin street, third ward of the city of New Castle and has been a resident of the city and county all his life.

In making his announcement today
Mr. Kennedy said: "I am a candidate for the office of sheriff of Lawrence county, the duties and obligations of which I believe I am fully qualified to perform because of many years spent in active police duty and a knowledge of the other duties that the sheriff is called upon to do."

"While lieutenant of police I was appointed as county detective, in which capacity I served for one year (1926), after which I was reappointed to the police department of the city of New Castle.

"Prior to entering the service of the city some years ago as a police officer I was in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, during which time I advanced to the position of conductor, in which capacity
I was employed when I took up my duties for the city.

"I have always taken an active part in those things of civic interest which advance the standing of our city and county. I am a member of the Epworth M. E. church. I am married and have three children.

"If nominated and elected to the office of sheriff I pledge myself to conduct the affairs of the office in an unbiased and businesslike manner for the benefit of all citizens of the county and to the benefit of no special group or individuals. I will do everything within my power, if elected sheriff, to enforce the laws and maintain order within the bounds of Lawrence county.

"Should this pledge and my qualifications for the office prove satisfactory, I would ask the support of the voters of the Republican party and nomination at their hands, subject to the primaries to be held Tuesday, September 17, 1929."

PETER SPREADS GOOD NEWS.

Peter grew nervous under the angry glances. But before he had a chance to explain his presence in the bog with the buzzing bees, Whizz with his usual alertness at noticing what was going on raised his voice.

"The Queen is with us. Everything must be quite all right."

Sure enough there was the old
Queen herself looking a trifle agitated, but collecting herself quickly.

"My good people!" her tones calmed her subjects as if by magic. "My dear people I must admit that I am at a total loss to explain to you exactly how we came to be here but I shall make immediate means to find out and maybe we're not in so bad a fix as we fancy."

"You're not," cried Peter, unable to restrain himself longer. As best he could he egged his way along the squirming masses and came to the foot of the Queen. "If you please, your majesty I think I can explain what is happening although I had nothing at all to do with making it happen!"

"Why it's our old friend Boy" exclaimed the Queen graciously remembering him at once. "You helped us out of a bad scrape once. I don't doubt you can be of service now."

So Peter began:

"A man who keeps the bees has
trapped us and is carrying us to a hive.
He means no harm. In fact he would do good unto you."

"He'd steal all the honey we could make!" he buzzed the Queen.

"I beg your Majesty's pardon while he might take some of it as his right."

Ruth's Intended Husband Says She Must Quit Flying

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—If Ruth Elder does anymore flying it will be in her own "back yard" and she's also through with the movies.

She didn't say so but Walter Camp,
Jr., her husband-to-be, did Monday.

"Will Miss Elder do any more flying?" he was asked.

"No, except perhaps a few flights for pleasure. There won't be any more of this sort of thing."

"Will she continue her work in the movies?"

"Positively not. Boots is perfectly satisfied to settle down and be Mrs.
Camp."

"Boots" Camp explained is a nickname given to Miss Elder several years ago by members of her family.

Must Not Write In City Library Books

"More books have appeared lately on the mending shelves with scribbles on their margins and end papers than I have seen in months before," said a member of the public library staff today.

"To write in one's own books may be permissible and even commendable. One may wish to accent his agreement with the writer, to mark a nucleus in his own thinking or to note an opposed idea. But to do this in a book belonging to another is unpardonable, and to write in books belonging to a public library marks one as not only ill-bred and egotistical, but as having destructive instincts. The law of Pennsylvania distinctly says that if any person shall injure any book belonging to a public library he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be liable for each offense to a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three months or both, at the discretion of the court; and he shall be liable, in addition, to make good the damage."

"Most of the writing found in the books is scribbling of names or initials, a comment on the book itself, a small memorandum or even arithmetical figuring."

"None of it is necessary or important; all of it could be eliminated by a bit of self-control or forethought. No one values the scribbling 'good' or 'rotten' on the end papers, as a comment or criticism on the book; as it does not always agree with the next reader. Moreover, the opinion of one who expresses it in this way is seldom worth consideration. When discovered, this writing must be erased or concealed by a pasteur."

"The staff would greatly appreciate the cooperation of library patrons in this matter, as their time would thus be considered for more important matters."

Syling Discovers Extra Problem

Unusual Type Of Bug Is Discovered At Meeting Monday Night

County Superintendent John C. Syling is puzzled. The whole thing revolves about a little bug, about an inch long, but which thus far has baffled the efforts of any of the "bugologists" to classify.

At the meeting of the Slippery Rock Township School Board Monday evening, the bug flew into the board meeting and settled down to watch the proceedings.

Interested in its peculiar appearance, Mr. Syling captured it and has it in his possession in the court house. In appearance the bug looks like a small lobster or crab. It has a head shaped like one, two long claws extending, and feelers like a lobster or crab.

Its body is protected with a hard shell like covering, but it has wings and flies. The best minds so far have decided that it is not a helgramite, but it must be something, and anyone with more than an ordinary knowledge of bugs is invited to look it over.

He presented The News with several fine specimens of the new flower and of one of its parents, known as Purple Glory.

He was also awarded first prize for the best Primulus variety shown and awarded the silver medal of the Ohio State Gladioli Society for the excellence of his display. Competition was keen and he was very fortunate in making such a fine showing.

Students Must Revise Conflicts In Study Cards

Principal Orth Of Senior High
Makes Announcement
Today

Principal Frank L. Orth of the senior high school gave notice today that no schedule cards or other matters pertaining to study programs would be revised or changed in any way after Tuesday, September 3, the day preceding the opening of school.

"Students who must have their cards made over must go to the high school and do it at once," Mr. Orth emphasized. "In past years we have changed cards for two or three days after school began but a new plan will operate this year. Girls in the office will be instructed not to change program cards after the mentioned date."

It is believed students will realize the importance of this so that no inconvenience might arise from neglect in having the matters cared for immediately. The office is open for students each week day, with the exception of Saturday a half-day holiday is observed.

villages throughout Palestine is presenting a serious problem to the British authorities.

A complete check-up of the dead and injured remains impossible, as the Moslem raiders persist in their custom of removing the bodies of fallen combatants immediately. Lack of proper communications between Jerusalem and outlying communities makes it difficult to estimate the number of Hebrew casualties, but it now appears that the Jewish deaths have passed the 100 mark.

Activities of the Arab raiders have not been confined to attacks upon Jews, for reports are received here today of an assault upon a British troop train near Jaffa.

"This report, coupled with others of similar nature which have been circulated since the pogrom started, confirm the opinions of many observers that the present situation is due less to anti-semitism than it is to a genuine Arab revolt."

was injected into the controversy over the rioting between Moslems and Jews in Palestine when the gigantic chain of newspapers owned and controlled by Lord Rothermere launched a campaign against the policy of the British government in Palestine.

While well-informed circles discussed the Palestine outbreaks more as evidence of growing Moslem discord with British rule in that territory than as a mere anti-semitic uprising, the Rothermere papers came out flatly in favor of a change in the British policy with regard to Palestine.

In strongly-worded editorials, the newspapers declare that Britain is not bound by the "casual declaration" of Lord Balfour which led to the creation of the British protectorate in Jerusalem. The papers comment bitterly on the "folly of attempting to convert an old Arab state into a sham Jewish nation at the expense of the British taxpayer."

wires, lighted with their red danger lamps.

Would the ship never lift! Nearer and nearer the dread wires the ship approached, and still it did not lift.

Then, Dr. Eckener quickly dropped 600 pounds of emergency water supply, and the ship zoomed up, to clear the wires by about ten feet.

It was the first real scare the passengers on this epochal flight have experienced in the operation of the airship.

Karl Von Weigand, one of the Zepplin's passengers, who has had more experience in lighter-than-air ship travel than any of the other civilian passengers, was inclined to be sharply critical of the handling of the airship.

Lady Grace Drummond-Hay, the only woman passenger aboard, and who has shared most of the trials through the Graf Zepplin has passed on its various travels, again was apparently the most unaffected person on board the ship.

Dr. Eckener explained the narrow escape was due to his miscalculation of the air temperature just above the lower strata, which proved to be only a few feet thick.

As Giant Bag Lands After Spanning Pacific

Dramatic photo of the Graf Zeppelin as the world-encircling dirigible landed at Mines field, Los Angeles, just at sunrise, after less than 80 hours in the air during which the giant ship spanned the Pacific, a distance of some 5,500 miles, from Japan. More than 100,000 persons waited throughout the night to see the Graf brought to earth. The landing crew of soldiers, sailors and marines can be seen above guiding the airship to the mooring mast.

Col. Lindbergh And Wife Attend Cleveland Races

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 27.—Why Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who bears his distinction of being the most marked man in America as a cross, should voluntarily appear in the midst of tens of thousands of curious spectators was readily apparent yesterday at Cleveland Airport, where he and Mrs. Lindbergh spent several hours viewing the national air races.

With photographers and reporters as thick as bees, he nevertheless could, and did walk alone. Nor did his admiring public, with which he mingled freely and unscathed, follow on his heels in crowds, although he was recognized.

The spectacle yesterday was on the field. The throng and the newspaper men were occupied with other pilots. The nation's hero realized his oft-expressed desire to be like any ordinary citizen and enjoy aviation's annual pageant unmolested.

Reporters, of course, did not ignore him altogether, but their business was concluded to the satisfaction of everyone in two short conferences, while the photographers got several posed shots and hurried off.

Interviews with the flying colonel are always aviation topics. It does not occur to the questioners or to Lindbergh to touch on politics, prohibition or other subjects. Yesterday he declared his belief in the future of the lighter-than-air ship, the dirigible.

Favors Dirigible.

"I think we should develop lighter-than-air craft as fast as possible," he said. "The airship is the logical aircraft for long distances and over-ocean flying."

"I should like to see a dirigible line established to operate on schedule so that some idea as to costs, reliability and regularity might be determined."

"Furthermore, I see no conflict between the fields of the airplane and the dirigible. Each has its sphere of usefulness."

Commenting on the recent flight across the continent and return by a fast plane carrying passengers, Lindbergh said:

"Undoubtedly trans-continental air-lines will make fewer stops than they do now, while the time required for the journey will be gradually cut down."

"The growth of the air transport lines is a sure indication that the public is taking to the air. I expect that the near future will see more people traveling by air than by any other method."

"Pullman planes will be in use on the Transcontinental Air Transport air-line by next spring if we can secure the right kind of equipment. Already the country traversed by the train on the second night's journey is lighted by beacons for night flying and the rest of the route to the west coast will be also."

"I do not believe that parachutes have any place in passenger transportation by air. For mail flying, test flying and for lights over new country they are very necessary, but the increasing safety factor of aircraft renders them dispensable."

"It is impossible to foretell what the future holds in the way of large planes carrying many passengers. The trend is toward larger and larger ships, however. One thing is certain, that the next two or three years will see even greater development than in the last three years."

"As for autogyros and other experimental planes, their potentialities cannot be told at present. It will be two or three years before we will know how they may be used."

He followed the Women's derby with interest, he said, but did not care to say what he thought its effects on aviation would be, or whether "women" had a real place in the air. "Gilders, he thought, had a certain value in training pilots and were "great for sport."

Won't Talk of War Planes.

Some one asked him then about the adequacy of the nation's military air forces. After long thought he decided that he had better not say anything on that subject. Col. Lindbergh hesitates before answering most of the questions asked, because he knows his answers are taken as authority by the public that thinks he is the acme of aeronautical lore.

His afternoon was spent largely on the flying field. He made a long visit to the army headquarters, renewing acquaintances and looking over the latest in army aircraft.

He greeted Lieut. P. M. Palmer of the Third Attack Group, whom he has not seen since his cadet days at Kelly field in 1925, by name.

"He was a good fellow at Kelly," Lieut. Palmer said.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh flew to the airport from the east side of the country in the light plane in which they had flown from New York the day before. While in Cleveland they were guests of Parnely W. Herrick. They left by plane at sundown, destination unannounced as usual.

credit to the county and a splendid comment upon the manner in which the committees in charge of the fair have done their work.

Wednesday morning the judges will start their work. Draft horses and prize cattle, all grades and colors of pigs, fancy work and fancy foods, all of them will be stood up in front of the judges and these gentlemen will decide which ones should wear the blue ribbon.

By Wednesday morning all of the race horses will be in the speed barns. Already sixty have been checked in, and the race enthusiasts of the county are assured of some fast stepping. The list of entries for Wednesday's race will be found on the sporting page of today's issue of The News.

Day And Night

Not only will the fair be a day-light affair but a night affair also. A number of stellar acts have been booked for the midway and in addition to free attractions in the day time they will be seen at night. Thus everybody will have an opportunity to attend the fair, even though his work keeps him away while the sun is shining.

Late concessions, hearing of the seeming success of this year's fair have hurried to get in at the last minute and the booth space has been added to considerably. Miss Neva Moore, who is in charge of the office has her hands full but every one of them is going away satisfied.

Eastern Standard Time

The fair is being run on eastern standard time, according to the announcement on the program. Busses will leave the corner of Washington and Jefferson streets at short intervals today, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, and special taxi service at a nominal rate will be in effect.

Louise Thaden Wins Air Derby Into Cleveland

Mrs. Louise Thaden Of Pittsburgh, Wins Women's Derby Race From California

GLADYS O'DONNELL IN SECOND PLACE

By HOMER H. METZ
International News Services Aviation Editor

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Louise Thaden of Pittsburgh, Monday afternoon won the Women's Air Derby from Santa Monica, Cal., to Cleveland. Announcement of her victory was made from the official stand shortly after her arrival.

Mrs. Thaden's blue plane, No. 4, circled over the field here, where the 1929 National Air Races are in progress, shortly after two o'clock. Her plane was brought to the grandstand at 2:15:10 o'clock.

Shortly after Mrs. Thaden's arrival,

Blanche Noyes, of Cleveland, appeared over the field, landing exactly five minutes after Mrs. Thaden.

There was some doubt at first as to whether Mrs. Thaden was definitely the winner because of the necessity of compiling her elapsed time during her flight from Santa Monica.

The third arrival was Miss Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Cal. She landed one minute after Miss Noyes.

Miss O'Donnell, according to an unofficial announcement, is the winner of second place.

Auto-Airplane Contrivance Seen

It was a rather strange looking roadster that the writer saw on East Washington St., Monday afternoon. It was a roadster—and yet, it wasn't. Let us call it an airplane-roadster.

Any-way, the machine was made of treated canvas fabric, as used in airplanes. It had wings, a tail which could wiggle, a propeller, airplane wheels, a cockpit which had the speedometer, gasoline dials, etc., arranged on the dash board of a real honest to goodness airplane.

The driver and his companion were dressed in true aviation style. Upon inquiry, the writer found that the driver's name was W. J. Sellers, that he was from Los Angeles, California, that the car will not fly but it behaves very nicely on the ground and that they are headed for anywhere in general, nowhere in particular.

The writer ventures to predict that the automobile of the future will be made as a combination ground and air machine. Wouldn't it be great to be able to fly over Grant street?

Halle Brothers Co. Open Store Here

New Store In The Castleton Building Is Ready For Business

Announcement is made today by Halle Brothers Co. of Cleveland of the formal opening of their fine new store in The Castleton on North Mercer street, which will be ready for the transaction of business Wednesday morning.

Monday and today have been courtsey days, when the citizens of New Castle have been given an opportunity to visit the store and become acquainted with the fine quality of merchandise handled and to inspect the handsome furnishings of the interior which are now ready after weeks of preparation.

The local store has been established, along with a number of others in the Cleveland area as service stores. They will carry a large and selective line of merchandise, but are ready at a moment's notice to furnish any article which is not carried in their store here from their greater selection in the Cleveland stores, where three large buildings carry a most complete line of merchandise.

This is the third store of its kind to be opened by the Halle Brothers Company, two others being established in Erie, Pa., and Mansfield, O. In addition, other units are now in the course of building at Warren and Canton, O.

The personnel of the local store has been recruited from the New Castle district, with the exception of but two employees, and have been selected because of their natural ability and acquaintanceship.

The character of the merchandise handled by this firm is the thing that is stressed by them, a large portion of which is entirely exclusive with Halle Brothers Co., just as the old English name out is symbolic of their institution.

The line of merchandise carried is principally women's and children's apparel and accessories and men's furnishings.

C. E. Pike will be the resident manager in charge, while Mrs. Wallace who has been the representative of the company here for some time will be located in their new store.

Mankind Has Great Future Just Ahead, Henry Ford Asserts

Opportunities Today Are Double Those Of Fifty Years Ago, Says Auto Magnate

World Is Only Just Beginning To Live; European Countries Need Help

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Henry Ford, world's richest industrialist, believes that "opportunities everywhere are just beginning to break." The opportunities of 50 years ago compared with today were "startling few." He foresees a wonderful future for mankind, asserting that people are just beginning to live.

As for himself, Ford has a "supreme mission"—service to his fellowmen. When that service is performed it is "not the end."

"What we call death doesn't end all for us by any means," says Ford in an interview with B. C. Forbes, appearing in the September issue of Forbes magazine.

"I believe that man's experience is not confined to his brief appearance on this earth, but that we are given millions of opportunities in course of our evolution onward and upward through eternity.

"It has taken a long time to bring us where we are. But we will go on until we can create things now utterly beyond our ken. As Mr. Edison says, we don't yet know one-millionth of what there is to be known. Practically every field of human endeavor is hungrily demanding research."

"Supreme Mission."

Ford regards as his own particular job—his "supreme mission"—to "give the world the very best car I can make at the lowest possible price."

That is the guiding motive animating everything he does in any part of the world "because that is the service for my fellowmen that has fallen to my lot during my present existence."

"Young people say there are no opportunities," Ford said. "Why, the world's opportunities are only beginning to break. Every generation leaves more opportunities than it found. I think of the airplane, electricity, motor transportation, radio, distributing, merchandising—everything that enters into modern life."

"Opportunity! It beckons to the earnest-minded youth on every side."

Ford also made these observations:

"People who have no time, don't think. The more you think, the more time you have.

"Anyone who spends time with children is distinctly better for it."

"Some one asked me recently if I had got back into my stride. I never was out of my stride. I am constantly trying to improve my stride—as every sensible person is."

"The more alive you are, the more eagerly interested you are in what you're doing, the less sleep you need."

Ford's normal night's sleep is only six hours. He is usually up before 6 o'clock.

Experience Needed.

Men should not quit work because they are growing old, Mr. Ford told Mr. Forbes. He said the world "needs their experience."

"If all men over 50 got out of the world, there would not be enough experience left to run it," said Ford. "I prefer to have a good part of my employees not young men. Men from 35 to 60—and in some jobs older—are more desirable."

Ford said he was not afraid of what the newspapers call "the power trust," adding:

"I would welcome a real power trust. The country by and by will have a real power trust. By that I mean that all the power of the country should be linked together under one control and every part of the country supplied from the logical distributing point. Power is all-important."

A power trust such as he advocates would have one man—"a monarch"—at its head. He would be responsible to the people.

Discussing international affairs, Ford declared that what Russia needs is motor cars, tractors and roads. He declared that the rubber people of the far east have the wrong idea because they want to curtail production to keep prices up instead of trying to produce a huge supply with a view of increasing its consumption.

Patriotic Sons Open Sessions In Pittsburgh

Election Of Officers Will Be
First Big Issue For Sons
As Convention
Opens

IS SIXTY-FOURTH
ANNUAL GATHERING

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27.—The first formal sessions of the sixty-fourth annual convention of the Patriotic Order Sons of America opening today at the William Penn Hotel here, were occupied with the election of officers. The thousand delegates from all parts of Pennsylvania were scheduled to make nominations this morning and conduct the elections this afternoon. The city for the next annual convention was also to be chosen today.

A large amount of interest has been aroused in the election for state officers. John G. Ziegler, of Lebanon, will be unopposed. It is believed, in his candidacy for president, to succeed Frank A. Potter, of Pittsburgh. A Philadelphia, Arthur R. B. Rox, is seeking the office of vice president. It is expected that William H. Fox, of Lancaster, and Nathaniel Cring, of Reading, will both put up a strong fight for the position as master of form.

Charles B. Helms, of Philadelphia, who has been state secretary for 13 years, will be opposed for his office by C. L. Nonemaker, of Allentown.

Four candidates are expected to provide the contest for guard with more excitement than any of the other races. The men seeking the position include David Davis, of Summer Hill; Warren Roberts, of Whiteley; Oscar B. Myers, of Doylestown; and H. R. McBride, of Uwchland. Harry J. Farr, of Bayre, is indicated as an unopposed candidate for state conductor, and Chester H. Rhodes, of Stroudsburg, for inspector. State treasurer Irvin S. Smith, of Reading, wishes to be named for his position another year.

Today the wives of the delegates will take sight-seeing trips through the plants of the H. J. Heinz company and other interesting industries and points. The Carnegie Institute will be visited also. A river boat-race will be held this evening. Two business sessions are planned for tomorrow. A sight-seeing tour will be conducted in the morning and an automobile parade will be included. The convention is scheduled to come to a close Thursday. At the final session the new officers will be installed.

Only 24 hours before officials of the home called the boy's parents to notify them of his death they had called and stated a guard was placed to prevent him from attempting self-destruction. Alleged Pittsburgh Embezzler To Be Brought Back From
New York

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27.—Police officials here today will serve extradition papers on New York City officials for the return of Wilson B. Smith, bank clerk, who took $100,000 in securities from the Oakland Savings and Trust Company here and fled two weeks ago. It is not known whether Smith will attempt to avoid extradition. Detective Thomas A. Morrow left here yesterday to bring back the alleged embezzler.

Smith was captured by New York police Saturday when he attempted to sell his automobile. It is believed he intended to go to Mexico. He said he became uneasy after embezzling a small sum from the bank, so he took a large amount of money and fled.

Disbarred Lawyer To Appeal Case

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27.—Attorney A. G. Helbling, of Ambridge, who has filed an appeal to the supreme court following his disbarment last Saturday from practicing law in the civil and criminal courts of Beaver county will get no action until next spring. This announcement came from the office of Prothonotary Pier Danna, here where the appeal was filed by former Judge Richard S. Holt, of Beaver.

The disbarment of the attorney was based on three charges. It was stated he accepted $1,000 each from two persons for whom he promised to get light sentences, and he withheld the address of the respondent in a divorce case so the respondent could not be notified and oppose the suit.

HOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING
The house of T. C. Blevins of this place was struck by lightning during the electric storm about 11 o'clock on Friday morning. The lightning struck the chimney and knocked a number of bricks off, some of which hit the house next door. The Blevins house did not take fire, but considerable damage was done to the interior and furnishings by soot and dirt which was blown all through the house. No one was in the house at the time it was struck, as Mr. Blevins, who is a local mail carrier, was out on his route and Mrs. Blevins was at the grocery store.

Police To Probe His Radio Powers

(International News Service)
CLARITON, Pa., Aug. 27.—A negro here has a power in radio-activity that will dishearten some of the world's greatest investigators, if his declaration is not cast on the rocks by detectives.

Houston Harris, 34, only worked a half day yesterday because he received several pin shocks in the leg telling him that two of his "lady friends" miles away were quarreling, he said. Every time trouble arises it is "radioed" to him via his leg, the negro asserted.

Police nabbed him as he rested on a front porch of a home while on a dash back to his friends. He was scheduled for a sanity test today at the police station.

Man Recovers From Copperhead Bites

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Aug. 27.—Devon Smith of Timblin, near this city, is recovering from two bites of a copperhead snake, sustained in a field near his home. He was working in the field and, stooping over, when the snake struck him on the wrist and ankle. He hurried to his home and called a physician who had to come to Punxsutawney to secure anti-venom serum.

By the time the serum was given the man he was swooned so badly that it was feared he would die. Tonight, however, the swelling has subsided and he will recover.

The old-fashioned girl just thought she was telling mother everything. She didn't know everything.

Bo-Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. Every good-sized movie house should have an adequate parking space for motor cars, run in conjunction with the theater. Roxie has a place at the rear of his Broadway Cathedral that accommodates 500 cars and does a business of $1,000 a day.

FATE
The other day "Big Bill" Terry, Giants' first baseman, was given a "ticket" for parking his car in the wrong alley. A double-header with Chicago claimed precedence over a summons to traffic court, whereupon Magistrate Andrew Macrery issued a summons for 10 o'clock next morning, without bothering to consult the baseball schedule.

That same afternoon Andy Macrery, discussing a business deal, complained of a pain in his heart. He was hustled to a neighboring doctor's office, where it was seen that the Worthy Brother was beyond the succor of science. Shortly thereafter he departed for the New Jerusalem. And he never got to try "Big Bill" Terry.

SMOKE IN DINERS

It won't be long now before we'll be able to smoke in all railroad dining cars. The Lackawanna is the first to let down the bars, while other roads in the metropolitan district, including the Pennsylvania, Central Railroad of New Jersey, the Lehigh Valley and the B. & O., permit smoking at the end of the "last sitting" when no more diners are to enter the car. All the roads in the district admit women to smoking cars. On limited trains, with club cars provided with the latest varieties of ash trays, the number of women who smoke almost equals that of men.

WHAT ABOUT THIS?

Whenever things are dull around the office of "Punch," the official British "comic" weekly, they take a summons to traffic court, whereupon Magistrate Andrew Macrery issued a summons for 10 o'clock next morning, without bothering to consult the baseball schedule.

We all admit that some of the Hollywood output falls at times to elicit, but in its balmy mood, Hollywood certainly would not sponsor a production like "The Battle of Jutland," the British film now showing on Broadway.

"The Battle of Jutland," itself, opened at a ten-mile range. I am reliably informed, and only ten and fourteen-inch shells were used. In the film, gunners are disclosed loading quantities of five-inch shells into their guns. Again a man wounded in the torpedo room leans through an open door and yells to the commanding officer in the control room that a leak has been stopped. The torpedo room is in the very bowels of a battleship, while the control room is, of course, considerably nearer the bridge. There are other goofy things about the picture, particularly the maneuvers of gunners.

I venture the query: Is it cricket? WHO KILLED ROTHSTEIN?
Grover Whalen, sometimes known as "Groovin' Grover," the Prettiest Police Commissioner New York ever had, is preparing a report in which will be rehearsed the glories of The Boys in Blue since Mr. Whalen undertook their leadership.

The scandal attending the Rothstein murder drove his predecessor, Joe Warren, out of office, and there are those who say Warren was forced to quit because he could not be dissuaded from bringing the gambler's slayers to book. Had the case been bared, the impression is many a name, high on the city's political roster, would have been found enhancing promissory notes in Rothstein's strongbox.

Warren was kicked out and died of grief. Whalen somersaulted into his place to accomplish what they said Warren couldn't.

Grover has staged a great show. From a vaudeville standpoint, it's what's known as a "knockout." But the Rothstein case is still in the nebulous status it was when the Great Thespian took office.

As Mr. Mulligan, the detective, remarked to his partner, Mr. Garrity, in "The Gorilla":

"I've followed every clue. I've shot at everything I've seen and I can't make anything out of it!"

Activity Quickens In College Town

Indications That Opening Of College Term Is Not Far Away

With college officials busy making preparations for the opening of the 1929-30 freshman handbooks from the printer is also another indication that the opening of college is not far off. This little book, covered in blue leather, is published each year by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. cabinets of the college. Fred Williams, Carnegie, is editor of this year's edition.

The handbook, which will be sent all freshmen, contains a college calendar, roster of faculty members, greetings to the new students from the president and from the Y organizations, a history of the college, traditions, college songs and yells, athletic schedules, rules and regulations, campus organizations, and the student government constitution. Pictures of athletic coaches and captains of the various college officials are also included.

Elmer Welker, of the Harbor road, is having two large greenhouses built on his farm. These greenhouses are being built as an addition to the six which he has at present.

Mr. Welker has been in the gardening business for many years. Four years ago, he built six greenhouses. At the same time, he gave up a large part of his gardening business and attended to the growing of flowers in the greenhouses. He will now abandon the garden trucking altogether and devote his time to the raising of flowers and plants under glass.

Plots are being measured for the new greenhouses. Each house will be 25 feet by 50 feet, which will make 3000 more square feet in addition to the six other greenhouses. Mr. Welker expects the new glass houses to be built in time for the oncoming flower season.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

ONLY A PRIVATE CITIZEN

When Owen D. Young returned from Europe after his brilliant solution of the German debt problem, New York wanted to give him a showy reception. He begged off, saying he was not a public character but a private citizen. Think a refreshing thing to read about. What a true thing it would be if many of us were willing to keep in mind that we are private citizens and not in the public service, and that we really don't have any parades coming to us.

ENTERTAINMENT IN COMFORT

Americans and others for that matter, take their bridge and their poker pretty seriously. They worry about games, stay awake, are even sometimes made miserable. Tennis and golf tire them out. They grow bad-tempered because of the poison of fatigue. Well, the Mexicans have solved all problems of that sort. They have a gambling game in Mexico in which each player puts a lump of sugar on the table. The lump of sugar on which a fly first lights indicates the winner and the winner takes all the stakes. Soft, restful and amusing. It satisfies the gambling instinct. A great improvement, one might say, on American games, especially on bridge and poker. Not even the embarrassment of shuffling on the part of an awkward player.

CLOSING SALOONS

Mussolini, adding to his other self-appointed duties, has started closing saloons. He says he has closed 27,000 in five years and in time he says he will close them all. Police officers say there are 32,000 in New York. Why not engage Mussolini?

Of course the Italian people do not want their saloons closed, and they will make a great deal of trouble about it and the dictator will have a job on his hands. Just as in America most of the people do not really desire prohibition. They merely desire to vote for it.

The Italian people are more easily led than the American people. This may be a good quality—maybe not.

AIR BUSINESS

Cuba reports imports by airplane in one year totaled more than a million dollars. This is double the amount of the year before. Planes come from South America, Mexico, Florida, Haiti.

The next great improvement for the radio will be a device to strangle sound waves before they can reach a neighbor.

Commits Suicide In Jail At Koppel

Prisoner Hangs Self In One Of Cells Of Nearby
Jail

KOPPEL, Aug. 27.—Placed in a cell at the Koppel police station at 11:30 o'clock Sunday night, the dead body of Joseph Twarowski, aged 46, veteran of the Russian and Polish armies in the world war, was found hanging to the cell bars of the cell at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The gruesome find was made by assistant chief of police Ross, who cut down the body and called for assistance. Coroner Dr. Harry McCarter of Beaver Falls, was notified and upon investigation gave a certificate of suicide by strangulation.

According to information available, Twarowski had been drinking during the evening and on his return to his boarding house conducted by Steve Kulien at 583 Sixth avenue, Koppel, his conduct was such that police were called.

In taking his life, the man used his silk undershirt that was fastened to one of the bars high up on the cell door. Placing the other end about his neck, Twarowski assumed a sitting position with his feet resting on the floor of the cell. Death came by degrees as the tightening shirt gripped his neck and stopped air from reaching his lungs.

Twarowski, who was an accomplished musician, was said to have served in both the Russian and Polish armies in the world war and to have been a veteran of many battles. He had been living in Koppel for a number of years and was employed by the Koppel Industrial Car company. He was reported to have made threats against his life at previous times and to have been melancholy.

He was widely known in Koppel and possessed a host of friends. It was said. Previous to entering his boarding house last evening, he had been playing during the evening. It was stated. No motive for the suicide is known other than indicated by his melancholy state and it is believed his condition last night prompted the carrying to completion of his threats.

AIR RACER TO WED WALTER CAMP

Ruth Elder may be loser in the air derby, but she'll win a husband, anyhow, so she is naturally elated. It all happened very suddenly. Just as she was about to hop off from the Los Angeles airport, Walter Camp Jr., son of the noted football coach, popped the question. Her plane took off before she had a chance to reply, so when she got to San Bernardino, her first stop, she wired Walter "OKAY"—and that's how it is with impetuous youth.

Collecting Funds For Football Camp For Team

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 27.—Over $150 has been subscribed to the popular collection which is being taken up by admirers of the football team for the purpose of equipping and maintaining a camp for Ellwood's 1929 high school gridlers. The leading spirit of the project is Andy Biorli and only a small time is allotted for the raising of funds.

Coach Peck Lee has been engaged to put the boys through a series of training stunts and tentative plans have been made for installing the camp at Dick Victor's as that contingent breaks up soon. The camp is to open tomorrow if all plans go through and he hopes to accommodate 40 football players.

With seven of last year's regulars gone Lee must construct practically new eleven. Coach Lee is not permitting himself to become unduly optimistic until certain that sufficient funds will be raised to establish the camp.

Veteran players from last year's eleven are Bill King, Willie Justine, Smilek and Benny Roeco, although ill health may force the last named to give up football.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

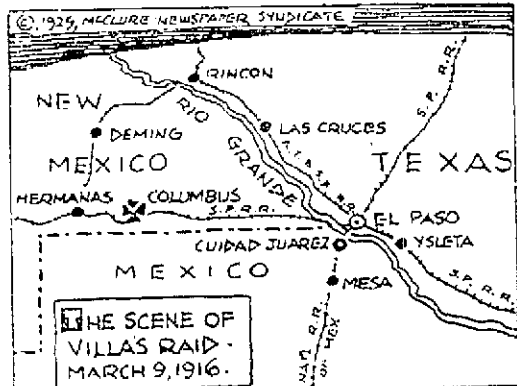

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of The World War
VILLAS RAID - COLUMBUS, N. M.

DURING 1916, WHEN MOST AMERICANS WERE DEEPLY INTERESTED IN FOLLOWING DAY BY DAY THE PROGRESS OF THE WAR IN EUROPE IN THE NEWSPAPERS AND WONDERING IF WE WOULD BE DRAWN INTO IT, AN EVENT OCCURRED ON OUR OWN SOIL THAT THREATENED TO INVOLVE US IN A WAR WITH MEXICO. IT HAPPENED THIS WAY:

VENUSTIANO CARRANZA, MEXICAN CONSTITUTIONALIST LEADER, BECAME PRESIDENT OF MEXICO IN 1914, SUCCEEDING THE USURPER HUERTA.

SOON CARRANZA QUARRELED WITH FRANCISCO VILLA, ONE OF HIS GENERALS. VILLA, A FORMER BANDIT CHIEF, TRIED TO OVERTHROW THE CARRANZA GOVERNMENT.

FOR MORE THAN A YEAR THERE WAS FIGHTING BETWEEN THE VILLA FACTION AND THE PARTY IN POWER, FAILING TO DISLODGE HIS RIVAL, VILLA RETIRED TO THE MOUNTAINS OF NORTH-WEST MEXICO AND REVERTED TO HIS OLD LIFE OF BANDITRY. HE WAS ESPECIALLY BITTER AGAINST THE UNITED STATES.

MARCH 9, 1916, VILLA AND HIS BAND SUDDENLY CROSSED THE AMERICAN BORDER AND, SWEEPING DOWN WITHOUT WARNING, RAIDED THE TOWN OF COLUMBUS, NEW MEXICO. NINE AMERICAN SOLDIERS AND NINE CIVILIANS WERE KILLED IN THIS FORAY AND THE BANDITS RODE BACK TO THEIR MOUNTAIN LAIR LADEN WITH PLUNDER.

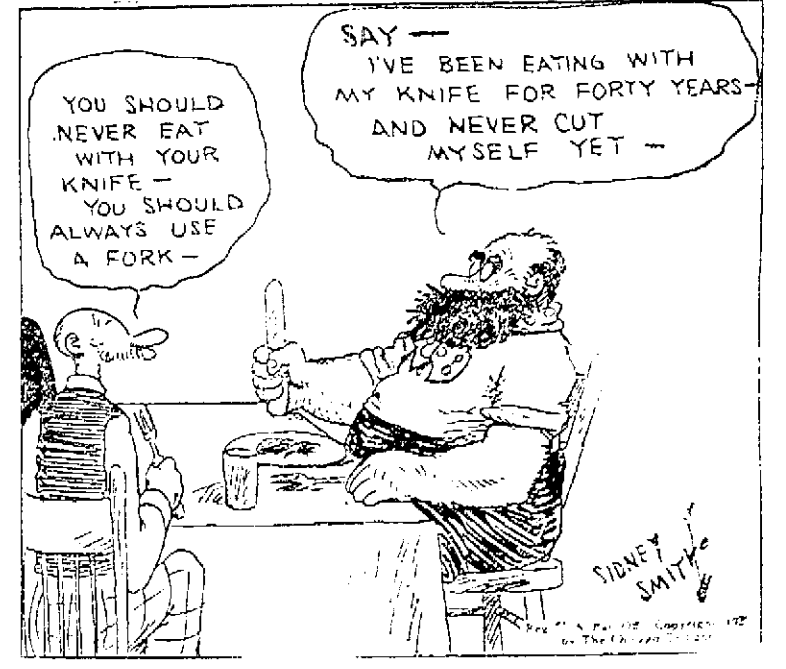

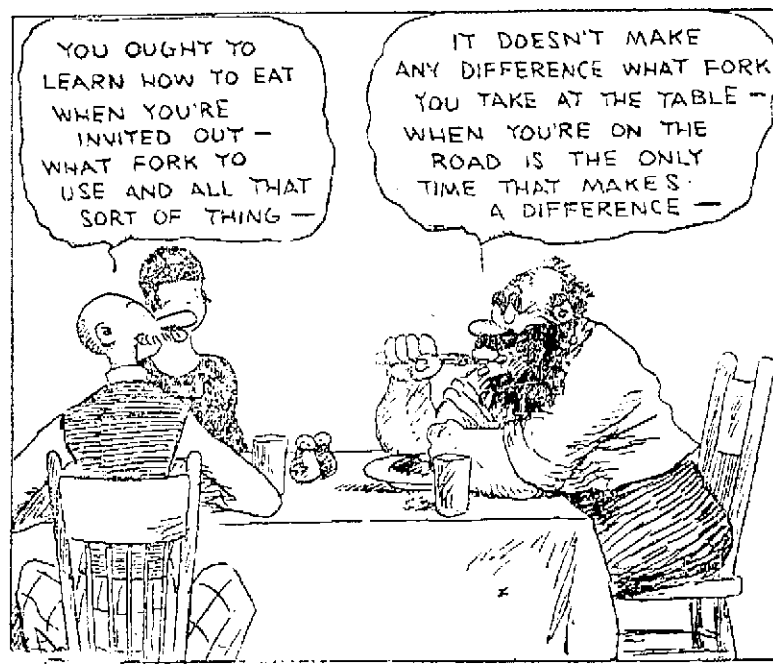

WHILE ALARM WAS FELT IN ALL THE AMERICAN BORDER TOWNS, THE WHOLE NATION CLAMORED FOR IMMEDIATE AND DRASTIC ACTION. THE CARRANZA GOVERNMENT WAS UNABLE TO COPE WITH THE SITUATION, AND ON MARCH 16 GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING, WITH 12,000 AMERICAN SOLDIERS, WAS SENT INTO MEXICO TO RUN DOWN THE BANDIT.

TOBIAS WINS DECISION OVER PETERS

Flyweights Put Up Thrilling Battle, Hernandez Is Good

Indian Fighter From Chicago Weathers Storm In Closing Rounds Of Great Little Scrap; Judges Split Decision; Referee Chip Gives Tobias Nod; Jackie Hernandez And Sammy Harris Battle To Draw In "Raw Verdict"; Romeo Paccelli Wins From Porto; Farrow Beats Elmo Clark; First Bout Draw; Best Card Of Year At Jolly Bowl.

By "BUGS" WALTHER

As the lassies of the Salvation Army would have it, "A man may be down but he's never out" and it took Ernie Peters, Indian descendant of Chief Sock-in-the-Wash or some other fearless redskin to demonstrate the truth of this axiom Monday night in Jolly Bowl.

Ernie was down, sure enough, down on the floor, and from the expression of his face in the fifth round, the chickadees were warbling their prettiest, but somewhere the redskin had a last ounce of cunning left, somehow he managed to beat Chip's "ten" and after hanging on long enough to weather the sixth round came back to rip Phil Tobias's face with some slashing rights. Peters nearly earned a draw through his display of courage, of stamina, but not quite. It was Tobias's fight, but what a fight, customers, what a fight.

Evening Of Punch

It was an evening of punch all the way through. They say that the boy with the punch wuss, and that held very true to form at the "punch party" staged in the Bowl last night. Promoter William "Bill" Jolly was all smiles. He was satisfied that he had given the fans their money's worth, and a man is always happy to please. Matchmaker Eddie Fritz, the red-tatched "Tex Rickard" of New Castle, scored another triumph. It was a pugilistic show that appealed to the most fastidious of them, inclined to scorn rip snorting exhibitions.

Those two little flyweights, packed a wallop like a ten-ton tractor, running amuck, they slashed, fought, countered, rushed, topped blows and gave blows aplenty. From pillar to post the boys who are supposed to be clever boxers and not punchers slammed each other. Peters was down on the beam-splashed floor three times for the count. What ever happened to him? He was under a rain of stiff right and lefts will always remain a mystery to the writer.

Tobias Earned Bout. At the end of the sizzling ten-rounder the judges Tommy Jones and James J. Dunn, split their votes, and Referee George Chip gave the decision to Tobias. The New Yorker earned the bout by his slashing style that worried Peters quite a little. Tobias was cut and bleeding from his eye in the middle of the fight, but the little New Yorker with the blood partly blinding him, kept pecking away at Peters like a sharp-shooter at the front-lines, and had the Chicagoan groggy in several cases. Only by sheer courage did Peters weather the storm in many of the latter rounds, to stay the limit with a fighter who has beaten some of the best flyweights in the country.

There was no stalling, the boys were in there to fight, and they did fight. They stood toe to toe and traded punches. Both boys took plenty of hard lefts and rights. That Tobias did not win by a knockout is another puzzle. Just where Peters stored up that last ounce of stamina is another mystifying question.

It was the best flyweight battle that the bowl has ever had. A return match would pack the house. It was another of those cases where the fans stayed away in droves, but they muffled one with the boxes full. Peters weighed 113 and Tobias came in at 114.

Semi-Final Very Good. Where did Eddie Fritz get that man Jackie Hernandez? What a fight he put up against the good Sammy Harris of Akron. The judges were unanimous that the boy was a draw. Referee Chip called he turn when he voted for Hernandez, but his vote was about as much good as Confederate money. The Cuban, weighing 135 pounds, fought Harris off his feet in almost every round. The writer would have given the decision to the Cuban, but maybe I'm wrong.

The light-complexed "panther" from the confines of Kingston, Jamaica, showed the fans plenty in the way of thrilling action. As a fighting man Hernandez is the works. He worked out on Harris to perfection. Now Sammy is good, good enough to stand up there with the best of them in his class, but Mr. Hernandez was far too clever for the Akronite. Harris fought a good battle. He stood up under a rain of blows that would have felled an ox. Hernandez was trying for a knockout but the cunning Harris exercised all his ring generalship and weathered the gale. Harris was inclined to run at a waterer he can be found Hernandez on his neck ready to punch him.

The semi-final bout was every bit

Jones Makes Fine
Score; One Over Par

(International News Service)
DEL MONTE, Cal., Aug. 27.—Those who aspire to the amateur crown of Bobby Jones were somewhat taken aback today, when they learned the Georgian played a leisurely round over the pebble beach course yesterday—and carded a neat 73, one over par for the course.

Shooting one over par on the pebble beach course is considered quite a feat, for only one golfer has shot the course in even par.

Bobby sank every putt but one, and that stopped short of the hole by four inches.

Massillon Will Have Fast Club Here Saturday

"Mickey" Huff, Seventh Ward Boy Is Playing For Agathon Team This Year

LOCAL BOY HEADED FOR BIG LEAGUES

Saturday's game at Centennial Field between the I. A. A. baseball nine which is leading the Lawrence County circuit and the fast Massillon Agathons promises to be a fast game. The game will start at 3:30 p. m. D. S. T. and this day will be dedicated to a local youngster who has made a steady rise on the diamond and who is making a bid for big league play. This youngster is none other than "Mickey" Huff the Seventh warder, who will if he makes good next season wear a uniform of the Cleveland Americans.

"Huff" Day. This day which will be Mickey Huff day should draw a large gathering and give him some encouragement. At the start of the season he was given a tryout by the Massillon team and pleased Manager George Textor. Ever since he has been making good at second base. At the present time Huff is clipping the ball at a steady pace and it would not be surprising if he turned out to be a star in the big time next season.

First Bout Draw. The opening bout of the "Evening's Evening" found Eddie Flick, Oil City, 131, and Young Hardy, Beaver Falls, 127, throwing a lot of gloves at each other, and in general aiding very nicely in the ventilation of the bowl. Both boys were wild in their punches. Flick a little more so than Hardy. Flick fell down a couple of times because he swung so hard at Hardy that he fell off balance. As opening bouts go, it was good, and the boys in the final round swapped punches and ripped over weak lefts. They were both tired at the conclusion.

The judges last night were Tommy Jones and James J. Dunn. The timer was Pete Capitola. George Chip refereed all bouts. Deputy Commissioner Larry Gent of Franklin, Pa., was in charge of the show, acting as an enforcer for the Pennsylvania state boxing commission. William "Bill" Jolly was the man who held the purse strings and Eddie Fritz was the matchmaker.

Solomon Wins Over Colombo At Johnstown

Mickey Solomon, New Castle boy won a ten-round fight from Joe Colombo at Johnstown, Pa., on Monday night, according to a telegram from Eddie Weygant, his manager today.

Weygant says that it was one of the greatest battles ever staged in the Flood City. Solomon had Colombo down for the count in the first round and about a dozen times afterwards, but couldn't put him away for keeps. The bout was so good, and the fans cheered so lustily that a Tonsilene fender at the gates after the show, sold completely out.

A fast is much like linen pants. After the second day they can't get any worse.

Fast Races Scheduled For Opening Day Of Fair Contests—Wednesday

For the opening races of the New Castle Fair—the premiere, if you please—racing fans are promised three events that should bring out some real class. The first race will be a 2:24 trot, $400 purse, 15 entries. While this will not be the fastest race of the week, yet a number of entries should guarantee some interesting racing.

The second race of the day is the 2:20 pace, $400 purse, with 10 bang tails entered. The third and last event of the day will be a 2:19 trot with a $400 purse bung up.

Following is the list of entries for Wednesday's races:

Southern Football This Season To Open New College Stadiums

By JIMMY BURNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 27.—Dedication of new stadiums will be an important feature on the south's football program this fall. Four colleges will open stadiums and in one instance a game of major calibre has been scheduled for the opening. That is the case of the University of Georgia, which is rushing Sanford Stadium to completion.

The Bulldogs have a beautiful plant, one that will seat more than 30,000 fans and no later than October 12 that seating capacity will undergo a severe test. For it is on that date that Georgia meets Yale University at Athens.

Holiday For Game. That is going to be one of the outstanding football games of the year in the south. Already the Georgia legislature has taken official notice of the encounter by adopting a resolution declaring October 12 a holiday throughout the width and breadth of Georgia. That holiday is more of a compliment to Yale than anything else, this being the first time that Yale has ever consented to come south.

Duke University, Alabama and Oglethorpe are the other schools with new stadiums. The Petrels are building a handsome structure of granite stone, similar to those used in its buildings. The Petrels' field known as Hermance Stadium will be ready for use in October, but the formal dedication ceremonies may be held up until 1933. Princeton's Tigers have been invited to come down that year and help dedicate the field.

The reason for the delay is the fact that only one section of the stands is being built now. When completed the Oglethorpe stadium will seat 50,000 and will cost in the neighborhood of $750,000.

Modern Stadiums Now. Just a few years ago practically all southern football games were played in makeshift fields and the fans had to make out with what few comforts were offered by old, run-down wooden stands. But a new era did away with all that and practically every college of import in the south today has a fine stadium.

Georgia Tech took the lead and was one of the first to build a stadium. Grant Field, home of the champion Jackets of 1928 will seat 40,000 and sooner or later it will have to be enlarged. Already two Tech-Georgia games of past years have taxed that seating capacity.

Tech this fall is expected to play before record crowds, both at home and on the road. Greater interest in the Jackets may be attributed to their remarkable record of last season. The Jackets will trot out on the field this year surrounded by all of the glamour of champions.

Gridders Get Good Workout

Coach Bridenbaugh Sends New Castle High Grid Candidates Through Two Sessions

By "BUGS" WALTHER.

Under a boiling hot sun at Muddy Creek Falls on Monday the New Castle High school football candidates, 40 of them, were put through two very satisfactory workouts.

Coach Bridenbaugh started off the 1929 practice sessions with a bang. There is a lot of work to be done before the opening game.

At 10:30 o'clock Monday morning the boys greeted Coach Bridenbaugh for the first time. A healthy looking crew. Quite "green" but they give promise of ripening and who wouldn't ripen under a sun that blistered everything it touched.

The morning workout was light. The muscles stiff and sore from the long layoff this summer, had to be loosened up. Assistant Coach Klee, the boy who directs the physical exercises at Senior High soon had the boys in line for a series of grilling maneuvers and then "Bridy" took up the task. Signals were given only temporary ones and the boys divided off into three squads.

The afternoon workout was a little more strenuous. The boys were very tired last night. They did not have to be rocked to sleep. Gardner was all smiles and busy as a one-armed man in a restaurant. There is plenty to do at camp to keep everybody happy.

The first up along French Creek north of Franklin, Pa., and in the vicinity of Carlisle, had better be on their guard today. Eddie Fritz and his family started in the "gas-wagon" today for the confines of the buckwheat. Fritz needs a good rest, and the fish will see that he gets it.

Fritz has been making matches at the Jolly Bowl for ever so long. It is a tedious job. He has placed great fights in the Bowl. Fritz and Jolly are both taking a rest this week and next. There will be no fight at the Bowl until Monday night, September 2.

Cangely and Hernandez will headline the next card, at the Palace of Swat. Here's wishing Eddie and Bill fine vacation.

A recent murder trial in Ohio emphasizes the fact that you don't have to fear censors if you put on your show where the admission is free—The Canton Daily News.

Apparently dissatisfied with their thirteen game lead, Chicago, after trailing seven innings, loosed a vicious attack in the eighth to whip the Reds, 9 to 5, and extend their lead over the idle Pirates to thirteen and one-half games. Rogers Hornsby and McMillan hit homers during the afternoon.

In the only other National League game the Phillies scored five runs in the last two frames to down the Cards, 7 to 6. Pinch hitter Davis' home run with two on base was the big blow in the Phils late rally.

Pittsburgh chose to spend the day playing Bridgeport of the Eastern League and was defeated.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—"Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion, defeated Matros Kirilenko, Russian, here last night, taking the third and deciding fall a few minutes after Kirilenko had fallen from the ring and injured himself.

Lewis won first fall with a headlock in 33.12. Then Kirilenko pinned him in 1:35 with a reverse body lock. While they were struggling for the third fall the Russian plunged from the ring to the cement floor, striking on his head and shoulders. Dazed, he was thrown in 2:52 with another headlock.

Church League Series Opens This Evening

Central Presbyterians, Winners of Second Half, Meet First Methodists

BOTH TEAMS PRIMED FOR CRUCIAL TILTS

When the Central Presbyterians winners of the second half of the Church League series meet the First Methodists, winners of the first half, in the championship struggle at Centennial Field, a battle royal is promised.

The Methodists literally burned up the circuit during the first half of the season, but fell by the wayside as the season wore on, the Central Presbyterians, with added strength coping honors during the second half of the race.

Both teams are primed for the opening contest this evening, and will present their strongest lineup in an effort to get the jump on their opponents.

The games are being played on Centennial Field which has not been used for Church League contests this season, so that neither team will have an advantage in this respect.

The second game of the series will be played on Thursday evening, and in the event a third game is necessary to decide honors, it will be played on Saturday afternoon.

Both teams have a large following of fans who will be on hand this evening to see their favorites in action and a real championship battle is anticipated.

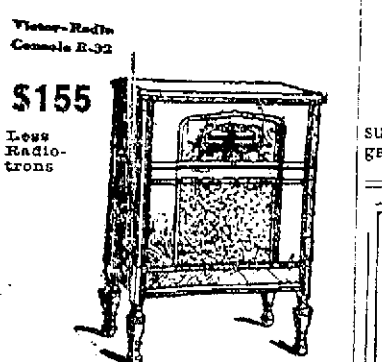

Campolo Is Signed For New York Bout

(International News Service) NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Disappointed in his efforts to sign Max Schmeling by the German lad's sailing for home, Humbert Pugaz today signed Victor Campolo, giant Argentine, to battle Phil Scott, English heavyweight, at Elberts field.

The men are scheduled to meet in a ten round bout on September 11, according to articles signed by Gustave Leveque, for Campolo, and Charles Johnston, as representative for Scott. Promoter Pugaz hopes to match the winner with Otto Von Porat sometime in October, and then await the return of Schmeling to this country.

It's always easy to decide on a fair division of the money received from Germany if one of the Allies isn't consulted.

The Dynamiting Singer

Unless some unexpected delay occurs the historic Polo Grounds at New York City will be the scene of another ring classic, Thursday night, when Al Singer, of Gotham's own Bronx, boxes Kid Chocolate of Havana in a scheduled 12-round bout at the novel compromise weight of 128½ pounds at 2 o'clock, about eight hours before the opening gong.

Singer, who was knocked out by Ignacio Fernandez a few months ago, did not fold up after that sad reverse. Al is young and seems to have plenty of heart. He is famed for his own K. O. punch which Andre Rouss, featherweight champ, sampled a few weeks back. That decisive victory earned Singer a chance with the Cuban sensation.

Of all this Summer's tistic attractions, the Singer-Chocolate go jooms as the very best. Both are high-class boxers with plenty of punching power and both corners. Al and the Kid each flame with ambition to merit lasting with the great boxers. They have huge and enthusiastic followings in and around New York City. Their clash is "a natural" if ever there was one.

So far, Chocolate has never taken a real beating. Most of his backers believe he is invincible. But Singer should put the Cuban to the test of real class. Schooled almost in the same environment as Benny Leonard, Al shows many of Benjamin's championship qualities. His home section of Greater New York—the Bronx—believes it has another Benny in Al.

In its populous region, they're predicting that Singer will whip Chocolate and even K. O. him in that screaming process.

This week-end, fans everywhere will know whether New York has, at last, another Leonard in the person of the intelligent, collegiate-looking, ring-wise Al Singer.

der the sponsorship of the New England Amateur Rowing Association, promises to dwarf the association's annual Labor Day meet both in size and importance.

The late season regatta will be held on the Charles River on Columbus Day, October 12. Whereas the regular Labor Day water meet usually attracts only local rowing clubs and scullers, the Columbus Day regatta is expected to attract the leading oarsmen of this country and Canada.

The four national championship combinations which garnered the laurels at the Springfield Nationals recently have been provided to appear on the Charles, as has Kenneth Myers of Philadelphia, senior single sculls champ.

Russell Codman of the Union Boat Club made the October regatta possible. While representing his club at the nationals in Springfield, Codman broached the subject of a post season meeting to several prominent oarsmen and the idea clicked immediately. Realizing that such a corollary of champion sweep-swingers would help put Boston into an oar-minded state of preparedness for the nationals here next August, the New England Association approved the proposed regatta.

The four winning crews of the Bachelor's Barge Club of Philadelphia will grace the occasion, according to Garrett Gilmore, commander-in-chief of the Barge Club navy.

The Slovaks thumped the West Pittsburgh team of the City-County League for a 14 to 2 setback last night in a game played at the West Pittsburgh field. The West Pittsburgh team had but three hits off Coates.

Passalunghi and Braky both pitched for the losers and both were hit hard. The Slovaks scored seven runs in the second inning and only missed one inning without a tally. Coates was in rare form and was given fine support by the Slovaks.

State Minimizes Danger Of Drought

Little Danger Of Water Shortage Unless Present Dry Spell Continues Long Time

HARRISBURG, Aug. 27.—Although the present drought is the worst in years, little danger of a water shortage is seen by state authorities.

Officials of the health department said there were no isolated cases where low water supplies were reported. These officials and Ralph H. Hosmer, chief of the bureau of hydrography, department of forests and waters, see no danger unless there is a protracted continuance of the dry weather.

The forestry department maintains gauging stations on the main streams of the state and he said "most of these streams are approaching the minimum stages."

A good, steady rain within a week or two, Hosmer said, would relieve the situation before it could become serious.

ZANESVILLE VOTES ON CITY MANAGER

ZANESVILLE, O., Aug. 27.—Pate of a proposal for the establishment of a city manager form of government here is in the balance today as a special election is being held. A bitter fight between the faction in power with strong backing of labor and representatives of better government here has been waged with both sides claiming a victory at the polls.

Hell, for the garage mechanic, will be a place where he can't find any velour to wipe his hands on.

Golf Amateurs To Get Expense Money

(International News Service) BOSTON, Aug. 27.—Contrary to the custom now prevalent among the American amateur golf associations, the Massachusetts Golf Association will pay the full expenses of its players in all future interstate and Lesley Cup matches.

This decision was reached by the organization after months of serious cogitation and debate. Heretofore American amateur golfers competing on alien greens have been forced to meet all expenses incidental to such a trip. The Canadian clubs, with the approval of the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, pay the transportation costs of their entrants in tournaments, but have never declared themselves responsible for entire expenses of the trips.

The Massachusetts Association will pay only legitimate expenses and in no case will the individual golfers receive cash. Tickets and Pullman reservations will be given the players, automobiles furnished for overland trips, and all hotel bills paid directly by the association.

The new ruling will go into effect in September when the amateur teams meet Rhode Island and Connecticut in interstate matches and oppose Canadian and Pennsylvania golfers in the annual Lesley Cup matches at Montreal.

Will Celebrate Highway Opening

Leesburg Road Boosters Will Celebrate Completion Of Perry Highway

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 27.—The Leesburg community is planning to celebrate on September 3rd the completion of the Perry highway between that village and the farm of Secretary of Agriculture Charles Jordan in Lawrence county.

The road is already open to the Robinson farm below Mercer and the grading from Mercer two miles out is almost completed and concreting will start on this end once the other is complete.

The Mercer I. O. O. F. Drum corps has accepted an invitation to attend the Leesburg celebration. The opening of this road means much for this century old village which once was an important stop on the Pittsburgh to Erie stage coach route. It gives the people of this locality an outlet which they have long desired and fought for. The Perry highway boosters at Leesburg were still fighting when the rest had given it up. It is determination of this character that makes possible the realization of their ambition.

SCHOOLS OPEN

Sixteen Mercer county rural schools out of 250 opened Monday. The list includes three in New Vernon, double the number in Sandy Lake, the same total in Deer Creek and four in Fairview.

Miss Katherine Barnes, assistant superintendent of schools, in whose district the schools are located, is making ready to visit them this week.

Why Suffer Stomach Trouble All Your Life?

Thousands of men and women who were physical wrecks from stomach troubles, who couldn't sleep, who couldn't eat without after-misery, and whose kidneys, bowels and liver were out of order, now enjoy old-time energy and relish their food since taking Tanlac.

Mrs. Albert J. Tucker, of 120 Orchard St., Nanticoke, Pa., says: "Six years I was a nervous wreck and suffered such severe headaches I could not ride on a trolley without being sick. Tanlac put me on my feet. Now I don't have headaches and enjoy the best of health."

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs of any kind, just a special combination of selected herbs, roots and barks, recognized to be of high medicinal value. Quick benefit and relief from stomach distress is almost sure to follow the use of Tanlac. Get a bottle today from your druggist and let it start right in correcting those troubles which make you so miserable. Money back if it doesn't help.

MERCER HORSES BUSY

Mercer horses race this week at Washington and New Castle. Last week they were at Butler and Waynesburg. There were no races at either fair due to the heavy rainfall.

JUNKINS MOVE

Tom Parker Junkin, who for the past three years has been editor of the Mercer dispatch, has moved his family to Clearfield, where he will be editor of the Republican Weekly, paper of that town.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. H. A. Black will entertain at the second of a series of bridge-luncheons at her home on East Market street Thursday, August 28.

TO ATTEND FAIR

The New Castle Fair this week will attract many local people. There will be a good field of horses which are well known to the racing fans of Mercer, which insures a following from here.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET

The Mercer W. C. T. U. will meet Friday, August 30, at the home of Mrs. E. M. Hogue, Greenville avenue. It is hoped that every member will be present.

CALF CLUBS TO CAMP

The boy members of the half dozen calf clubs in Mercer county, numbering 30, will camp August 28, 29 and 30 at Grove City on the grounds of the Accredited Cattle association of western Pennsylvania, who hold their annual cattle show on August 29-30.

The camp is the annual outing of the boys. George Lang, assistant to A. L. Baker, in charge of the state club work, will be here for the week. With W. S. Hagar, farm agent, Mr. Lang has outlined a program of work for the camp that will be instructive.

It is expected that pure bred cattle valued at $200,000 will be on the ground for this show, which has been an annual event since 1915. The three best known breeds, Holstein, Jersey and Guernsey, will be exhibited. The judging takes place Friday, the 30th.

WILL ENTER EDINBORO

Mercer will be well represented at Edinboro State Teachers college when that school opens this fall. The following young ladies will matriculate: Marion Reed, Mary Huey, Ethel Wiley, Eva King, Helen McGarr and Mabel Sharlow return to complete their work.

MURDERS ARE FEW

State police officials are of the opinion that the vigorous enforcement of the prohibition laws in Mercer county has kept the percentage of major crimes in the county below the average, fixed at 11 murders for each 100,000 per year.

There is no doubt of the 100,000 in the county and many more. Our murders for the last few years have not been in excess of two. The state police officials say that the condition in Chicago is typical of what may be expected where the liquor racketeers are let go.

TALLEST PRISONER

James Coates, Farrell negro, is the tallest man ever held in the county jail. Coates measures 6 feet 7 inches in height. He was brought in on a liquor charge.

All the jail doors are lacking by a number of inches in supplying height enough for him to get in and out without stooping. He weighs well over 200 pounds and is stated by Sheriff Dan Callahan to be the finest specimen of manhood he has locked up during his term.

JUDGING CONTEST

Farm Agent W. S. Hagar announces the date for the boy and girl cattle judging contest at the Stoneboro Fair on September 3 at 10:15 a. m. The same event will be held at the Mercer Fair on September 11. The usual large class of boys and girls is expected to turn out for these events.

TO BE CATTLE JUDGE

Farm Agent W. S. Hagar will be the cattle judge at the North Washington Fair to be held the week of September 2. Mr. Hagar will do his judging on the date of September 6.

VACATIONS END

The present week completes the vacation period at the court house. Next week puts the county house back on a full time basis.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

The car came through traffic, loaded to the gunwales with baggage and people, each one of them whom had a little more than half the room they needed inside the sedan.

On the front of the car was a streamer which announced in big bold type that the owner had been through the Endless Caverns. On the door were pennants from Painted Post, N. Y., and Mauch Chunk, Pa., while the back, oh my dear that back.

Pennants from a dozen places, Niagara Falls and Atlantic City, Water Gap and Scranton, and from the looks of the car they must have pulled up to a pennant stand before they looked for a restaurant in the town they passed through.

Lovely custom—don't you think? Something like collecting tea spoons from every hotel in which you eat, or some more of those quaint old Spanish customs. Personally I think it's a lot of raspberry preserve, but then one must show where one has been. Mustn't one?

Speaking of the fair, or were we? What I wanted to say was that this is the day folks, the opening of the New Castle Fair and if I can ever get far enough ahead in the work here you can find me out on the midway, knocking down the rag babies or trying to yodel a couple of succulent hot dogs.

All of us have our weakness, and midways are mine. And old midway, just so they have a gang of shillabars and barkers on it. You know and I know that we are going to get pleasantly rooked, but what of it? It's the fair, and after admiring a few hundred kind faced cows, and a lot of ring tailed pigs, or after admiring work horses built like trucks, we like to get out on the midway and have somebody tell us that we can't lose.

The next thing to look for is football, and its attending joys and sorrows. There is going to be but one good football team in the country this year and that will be Michigan. Have it on the word of Bob Armstrong that there really won't be anything to it this year. After poling off Illinois, Ohio State and Minnesota, Michigan will take the Army and also the Big Ten championship.

Later investigation indicated that Armstrong may have spoken a bit out of turn. The "best team" in the country this year will be Princeton to take the word of Jim Smith for it. Still later developments lead one to believe that Doc Horner is right about Pitt being the class of the country, or Joe Weinschenk that State will be it.

Andy McDonald radios in to ask if the folks had thought anything about Westminster.

Hold Sharon Youth For Mail Thefts

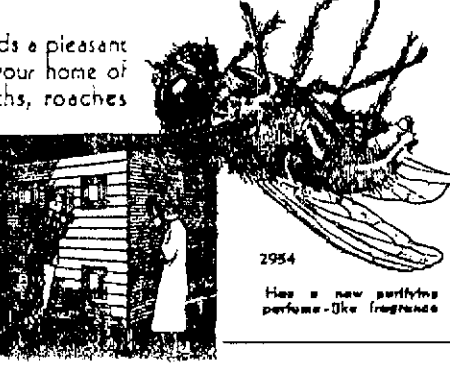

SHARON, Pa., Aug. 27.—Fred Shannon, 19, of Fourth street, arrested by Postoffice Inspector William Tafel at the local postoffice, where he was employed as a letter carrier, has furnished 500 bail for his appearance at the September term of federal court in Erie. He is charged with removing money from the mails.
